

Big Battle Looms As Reds Near Hangchow

Shanghai Shows Signs Of Panic

Shanghai, April 26—(AP)—Chinese communist columns, boasting they had overwhelmed two government armies, wheeled west of Shanghai today toward Hangchow and a possible decisive battle.

Shanghai, which remained calm when the Reds broke the Yangtze river line, began to show signs of panic. Business was almost at a standstill, the money market was chaotic.

Nervousness increased as the United States and Great Britain moved heavier naval units out of the Whangpoo. They were anchored in the Yangtze to the north to avoid possible involvement in any fighting.

250 Nationals Leaving

More than 250 Americans and other nationals were getting out. Many more elected to stay. U. S. Economic Administration Association headquarters packed up to move to Canton, South China city now serving as the Nationalist capital.

(The communist radio in Peiping announced that lives and property of foreign nationals would be protected. The broadcast was heard by the AP in San Francisco.)

The communist radio said Red columns had captured Ning and Chinghai, about 80 miles west of Shanghai. If true they were halfway from the Yangtze to Hangchow, 85 miles southwest of Shanghai.

Hangchow may be the site of a last-ditch government stand on the opulent eastern seaboard of China. Many of the government forces which seem to have vanished from Shanghai may be at Hangchow now.

Circle Lake

While one Red column curled around the western side of giant Tai Lake in the Ning sector, another beat down the eastern shore.

A Shanghai nationalist garrison commune said Red outposts had appeared near Soochow (Wuhsien) 40 miles west of Shanghai. Either column in a thrust south would cut land communications between Shanghai and South China.

A communist broadcast heard in Shanghai said the "bulk" of the government's 20th and 99th armies were "wiped out." It asserted more than 13,000 troops were "wiped out" and an equal number captured.

No news came out of Nanking. Associated Press Correspondent Seymour Topping reported from Nanking that communications were disrupted. He indicated he was confined to his house by communist guards.

Jury Can't Decide If Boy's Death Is Accidental Or Not

Chicago, April 26—(AP)—A youth's macabre interest in execution devices was investigated today by a coroner's jury inquiring into his fatal hanging.

The jury, however, was unable to decide whether the death of James Balfie, Jr., 17, in a hangman's noose Sunday was intentional or accidental. He was found hanging in his home.

A year ago, his father, James, Sr., told the jury, the son built an electric chair. Balfie said he believed the chair would kill a person and destroyed it. He cautioned his son against his interest in such lethal objects, the father said.

When he found the youth hanging, a towel was wrapped carefully about the victim's neck. Balfie said. The rope was strung intricately over the top of a door and the father believed the son died during an experiment, he testified.

A close friend of the younger Balfie said he appeared in good spirits and had planned to go to a movie this week with the friend.

U.S. Air Force Defeated In Fight With Little Mouse

Fort Lewis, Wash., April 26—(AP)—Second division air section crewmen disliked the ticking sound in the wing of a small reconnaissance plane at firing center maneuvers, near Yakima.

Pilots and mechanics surrounded the plane. One brave soldier peered in.

A mouse was building a nest. No amount of noise would dislodge it. A six-wheel drive truck was wheeled up. A hose was attached to the exhaust pipe and inserted in the wing.

The mouse, finally frightened, leaped out and the troopers swung into action. Later army medics treated several cracked knuckles and shins, casualties of the club-swinging melee. The mouse escaped.

Says Lifting Blockade Won't Affect Republic

Berlin, April 26—(AP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay said today the western allies intend to see a west German Republic established regardless of whether the Russians lift the Berlin blockade.

A similar stand was taken by British spokesmen in London and Lake Success.

The Russians previously have insisted on postponement of plans to set up the west German state as a condition for lifting the blockade.

A Tass announcement early today, however, indicated the Russians had dropped this condition—after Andrei Vishinskiy succeeded V. M. Molotov as Soviet foreign minister.

Tonight the American-licensed German news agency Deutsches Nachrichtenbureau quoted the Soviet military administration in Berlin as saying the Russians had received orders from Moscow to make immediate preparations for lifting the blockade.

The Soviet-controlled German news agency and the red-directed Berlin radio said they had no knowledge of any such order. The British post at Helmstedt—border point where the rail blockade would be lifted—knew nothing of any technical preparations on the Soviet side of the border.

Nevertheless, both Clay and Robert D. Murphy, former political advisor to the military governor and now head of the state department's German division, took a wary attitude toward the Soviet offer to lift the blockade. This was in contrast to optimism expressed at the state department in Washington.

Murphy saw the Russian move as an effort to swing German opinion away from the thought of forming a west German Republic. He said he was convinced "the Germans will not be swayed."

Clay declared "it will have no effect whatsoever on the west German government. We are going ahead with our plans."

Murphy said the Russians should make a formal request for a foreign ministers' meeting if they mean this "put it in writing" attitude was general among western allied officials in Berlin.

Gov. Stevenson, Kennelly Discuss Chicago Problems

Springfield, Ill., April 26—(AP)—All Chicago business, professions, industries and occupations would be subject to revenue-raising city license fees under a bill being studied by Mayor Kennelly.

This was disclosed today by Governor Stevenson. After a four hour conference at the executive mansion with the mayor, he told reporters that:

1. He is sticking to his plan to give $400,000 during the next two years to hard-pressed cities, either in cash grants, sharing in the state sales tax revenue, or through indirect state aid to municipalities.

2. Now that he has Chicago's ideas first-hand, he is going to talk it over with downstate city officials before making a decision on how it should be shared out. He hopes to decide soon.

3. The city of Chicago, which asked for $25,000,000 a year from the state, isn't likely to get more than $10,000,000 from the Stevenson plan. So Kennelly is considering asking the legislature for broad home rule powers in licensing to get more money.

Divorcee Admits She Shot Man And Left Him In Ditch

Chicago, April 25—(AP)—Mrs. Judith Elkins, attractive 30-year-old divorcee, will have a court hearing May 4 on charges of shooting her male escort Friday and leaving him in a roadside ditch.

The woman is charged with assault with intent to kill. She is free on $5,000 bond.

Jay L. Shaw, 26, a hospital aide, was wounded four times with a .38 caliber pistol. He told authorities Mrs. Elkins, a science instructor at Chicago hospital, fired six shots at him when he got out of her car near suburban Barrington to inspect the tires.

Sgt. Harold Leeds of the Cook county highway police said Mrs. Elkins made an oral statement admitting the shooting. Leeds said jealousy was the motive.

Wounded in the neck, right and left thighs and the left wrist, Shaw was found by farmers in a ditch. He is recovering in an Evanston hospital. Physicians described his condition today as "very good."

Clergyman Held As Material Witness In Wife's Death

Rechester, N. Y., April 26—(AP)—A clergyman was ordered held today as a material witness in the pistol-slaying of his 25-year-old wife whose body was found in the Genesee river.

The Rev. George Hetenyi, 40, who has served as a supply pastor in western New York Episcopal churches, identified the body of the brown-haired woman as that of his wife, the former Jean G. R. Gareis. But he declared at a court hearing that he "didn't kill" her.

At the couple's home in Amherst, near Buffalo, police said they had discovered a bullet hole and stains that might be blood in the family car.

Justice Daniel J. O'Mara of the state supreme court set bail for Hetenyi at $50,000.

The Hungarian-born clergyman at first refused to view the body which was at the morgue. After being brought here by Monroe county authorities from Amherst, he broke a window and overturned furniture in the sheriff's private living room at the jail.

Attlee Promises To Protect British From China Reds

London, April 26—(AP)—Prime Minister Attlee promised Parliamentary critics today Britain will "take every possible step" to protect British subjects caught in China's civil war.

The shelling of four British warships on the Yangtze river by communist artillerymen last week set off a Parliamentary debate. Conservative leader Winston Churchill and many other legislators attacked the labor government.

Labor members drowned out some questions with shouts that "the Tories (conservatives) want war."

Churchill told the House Commons the Yangtze incident was an atrocious outrage. He said the government had thrown the whole burden of responsibility on British naval commanders in China and should have aircraft carriers there for "effective power of retaliation."

He demanded "effective steps to make sure we are treated with respect in the future."

Postwar Problems Continue To Hurt Them Says ANPA

New York, April 26—(AP)—Postwar problems continuing to plague American newspaper publishers despite record revenues were aired today by heads of smaller dailies at two down-to-earth sessions.

Joe M. Bunting of the Bloomington, Ill., Pantagraph, keynoted the meetings with the statement that "mounting costs of operation, labor unrest and legislative proposals adversely affecting our business are but a few of the daily headaches confronting us."

The sessions, for papers with less than 10,000 circulation and with 10,000 to 50,000, were closed but reports were made to newsmen afterwards by those in charge.

William Dwight of the Holyoke, Mass., Transcript-Telegram, said "everybody's worried about trying to hold down production costs."

"Last year everyone was worried about newsprint," he added. "You don't hear anything about that any more."

M. M. Oppegard of the Grand Forks, N. D., Herald, said that discussion of how to halt mounting production costs centered on telephone sets.

The committee, after hearing a lengthy debate on gambling, voted 15 to 2 in urging passage of the measure sponsored by 44 House members.

Speaking for the bill was Rep. T. J. Sullivan of Springfield, where State's Attorney George P. Courtauld has banned bingo and all gambling. Bingo games formerly were conducted here for the benefit of the Cathedral boys high school.

Sullivan, a Democrat, told the committee that bingo is an "innocent game that hurts no one." But the ministers replied that "bingo and all other forms of gambling are wrong no matter what use is made of the proceeds."

Rev. E. E. Bollinger of Springfield declared that if bingo were legalized, "you will find that ostensibly charitable organizations will spring up simply for the purpose of promoting games of chance."

U.S. Will Feature Covered Wagon In State Bond Drive

Chicago, April 26—(AP)—The treasury department's "opportunity" campaign for sale of U. S. Savings Bonds, May 16 to June 30 will be featured in Illinois by a covered wagon tour.

The covered wagon, a replica of the conveyance used in the gold rush of 1849, is one of 30 to be flown to key states by the air force.

The vehicle will reach Chicago May 16 and remain here for a week. The itinerary from here follows: May 24, Joliet; May 25, Aurora; May 26, Elgin; May 27, Rockford; May 30, LaSalle; May 31 and June 1, Peoria; June 3, Quincy; June 6, Jacksonville; June 8 and 9, East St. Louis; June 10, Litchfield; June 13, Springfield; June 16 and 17, Decatur; June 20, Champaign; June 21, Urbana; June 22 and 23, Danville; June 24, Hoopeston; June 27, Bloomington; and June 29 and 30, Kankakee.

INCREASED BUILDING UPS BUSINESS INDEX

Chicago, April 26—(AP)—A spurt of building activity led Chicago business indexes seasonally higher last month, it was reported today.

The Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry said there were 1,090 construction contracts awarded in Cook county in March compared with 458 in February. In March a year ago, however, such contracts numbered 1,332 and for the similar month in 1947 the figure was 1,646, a record high.

Legislature Gets Bills For Sales Tax, FEPC, Reapportionment, New Charter, And Police

Springfield, Ill., April 26—(AP)—The Illinois legislature today got new bills on five major topics—sales tax, FEPC, reapportionment, new constitution, and state police.

It also struck the death blow for the cat bill—a comparatively minor but just as controversial a subject. This is what the new bills would do:

1. The sales tax would be increased from two to three cents on Jan. 1, 1951. The money could be used only for new state buildings. One Chicago Democrat suggested it, without apparent support from any big bloc or from the governor.

2. Governor Stevenson's pending plan for a state FEPC, to bar job discrimination based on race, creed or color, would be changed so the passage chances would be weakened. Two downstaters asked for the changes.

John L. Sullivan Resigns Post As Secretary Of Navy

Washington, April 26—(AP)—Before packed galleries, the House Labor committee, whose bill would kill the Taft-Hartley act and reinstate the old "New Deal" Wagner act along with some changes recommended by President Truman.

Arrayed against the Lesinski bill were backers of a substitute measure by Rep. Woods (D-Ga.). These were chiefly Republicans and Southern Democrats, with a sprinkling of Truman Democrats. The Wood bill would retain most of the Taft-Hartley law, while repealing it in name.

Shortly before the session began Rayburn predicted to newsmen that the Wood bill will be defeated. A vote on it is expected Thursday.

House Begins Debate On Demo Labor Bill

Washington, April 26—(AP)—The debate was formally launched by Chairman Lesinski of the House Labor committee, whose bill would kill the Taft-Hartley act and reinstate the old "New Deal" Wagner act along with some changes recommended by President Truman.

But Rep. McConnell (R-Pa.) told the House that the Lesinski bill would cut out a provision of the present law "which enabled the Atomic Energy commission to protect atomic secrets from communist labor officials."

McConnell said the administration-backed measure would deprive the government of the power it now has under the Taft-Hartley act to deal with national emergency strikes. He said it would also abolish provisions "protecting the political freedom of individual workers."

Spectators' galleries were jammed as the heated, arm-waving debate opened. Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) had to admonish the visitors against applauding speeches on the floor.

House leaders said a final vote is not expected before late Friday.

MEN STILL WANT VESTS

(Kansas City Times)

Men's wear handlers who were recently queried in a Chicago survey say it's a trend, this enforced decline of the vest as a standard garment. That may be how they prefer to regard the unhappy development but we insist it's a conspiracy.

The vest, we contend would be as popular as ever if it weren't for the way men's suits are being sold these days. Ordinarily a buyer has a choice of only two ready-made apparel combinations. He can either get a single-breasted style with vest or a double-breasted pattern compelling him to go around vestless. It's just too bad for him if he happens to want a double-breasted coat with matching vest.

Many men are convinced that they can't look their sartorial best without a double-breasted coat. Apart from appearing in public, however, a large proportion also are sold on the comfort of a vest with its extra pocket space to serve them at work or around the house. These fellows are being sacrificed as victims to an alleged "trend" toward a non-vest era.

With postwar shortages of clothing material definitely in the past there is no longer a valid reason why they shouldn't be permitted vests as well as double-breasted coats. End the discrimination against this sizable group of men and just watch the vest win back every bit of the favor snatched from it by a flagrant conspiracy.

BACK IN 1899
Remember when you could get a pound of butter for twenty-six cents? Round steak was only thirteen cents a pound, pork chops eleven cents, bacon fourteen cents, and the butcher gave away the liver. Those weren't ceiling prices. Everything was just naturally like that back in 1899. Remember?

Phyllis Witte Becomes Bride Of Carl Nobis

Couple Wed In Twilight Rites At Arenzville

A twilight ceremony held Saturday evening, April 23, in Trinity Lutheran church at Arenzville, Ill., united in marriage Miss Phyllis Witte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Witte of Arenzville and Carl Nobis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nobis of Fowler, Michigan. The marriage vows were received by the Rev. H. V. Neundorff, pastor of the church.

A large gathering of friends and relatives witnessed the double-ring ceremony, which took place at 6:30 o'clock before the traditional setting of white flowers, palms and glowing tapers.

"O Perfect Love" was sung before the ceremony by Miss Dorothy Linberger of St. Louis, Mo., accompanied by the organ by Mrs. Edward Engbrecht of Jacksonville, aunt of the bride, who also played the wedding marches. As the couple knelt at the altar the soloist sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Two flower girls, Preceding the bride down the aisle were the flower girls, Pamela Sue Wessler, cousin of the bride, and Paula Theis, niece of the bride. They wore floor length gowns of yellow dotted swiss made with a bouffant skirt and off-the-shoulder bodice.

Nile green nylon over satin was worn by the matron of honor, Mrs. Robert L. Witte, sister of the bride. She carried a Colonial bouquet of yellow jonquils.

Other attendants to the bride were Miss Rosalie Wessler, cousin of the bride and Miss Jane Heazberger. Their gowns, identical in design, were of silk marquisette over satin in pink and blue. They carried Colonial bouquets of white carnations.

The best man was Walter Nobis, Jr., of Fowler, Michigan, brother of the bride-groom. Groomsman were Paul Graff of Fowler, Mich., cousin of the bride-groom, and Bill Thiven, Jr., of Milwaukee, Wis., cousin of the bride.

The guests were seated by John Watt of Fowler and Paul Theis of Murrayville, brother-in-law of the bride.

Bride Wears White
The bride's gown of white slipper satin was designed on princess lines and featured a sweetheart neckline. The sleeves were long and pointed over the hand and made full at the shoulder with inserts of Chantilly lace. Chantilly lace also formed an insert at the waist line and two panels in back of dress which extended down the entire length of dress and chapel train. The bottom of the gown and train was edged with a wide ruffle of lace.

She carried a Colonial bouquet of white roses. Her only jewelry was a rhinestone necklace, the gift of the bride-groom. She was given in marriage by her father.

Her fingertip veil of illusion, edged with lace and made with combination blusher, fell from a tiara of white roses.

A reception in Sugar Hollow dining room, Moline, followed the ceremony, with Mrs. William Peterson and Miss Curry assisting. The couple left on a trip to the Ozarks, for which the bride selected a red suit with navy accessories.

Mrs. Kelleher attended the Ashland schools and until recently has been employed by Gibberman Brothers & Co., Rock Island. Mr. Kelleher attended Reynolds schools and is engaged in farming near Taylor Ridge, where the couple will reside.

Ceremony Unites Anna Mae Irwin, Thomas Kelleher

Ashland.—The marriage of Miss Anna Mae Irwin of Rock Island, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee R. Irwin of this city, to Thomas Kelleher, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kelleher of Reynolds, was solemnized at 3:30 a.m. Saturday in the St. Ambrose Catholic church at Moline, with Rev. John F. Crowley officiating.

Mrs. Herbert Landreth of Rock Island attended her sister as matron of honor and William Peterson of Moline was best man for his brother-in-law.

A gown of white bridal satin styled with a yoke of lace, lace inserts in the leg o' mutton sleeves and full skirt was worn by the bride, who was given in marriage by her father. Her fingertip length veil of illusion fell from a seed pearl tiara and she carried a white satin prayer book, a gift of the bridegroom. Her flowers were white roses.

A reception in Sugar Hollow dining room, Moline, followed the ceremony, with Mrs. William Peterson and Miss Curry assisting. The couple left on a trip to the Ozarks, for which the bride selected a red suit with navy accessories.

Mrs. Kelleher attended the Ashland schools and until recently has been employed by Gibberman Brothers & Co., Rock Island. Mr. Kelleher attended Reynolds schools and is engaged in farming near Taylor Ridge, where the couple will reside.

Continue Search For Slayer Of Insurance Man In Greene Co.

Jerseyville.—The widespread hunt for the slayer of Howard Heining of this city continued over the week end with increasing tempo as police officials of Jersey and Greene counties joined with state police and Bureau of Criminal Investigation experts in the attempt to trace the killer.

The bullet riddled body of Heining, assistant supervisor in this locality for the Metropolitan Insurance Company, was found at 6 o'clock Thursday evening on the bank of a small creek ten miles north of Jerseyville.

The hitch hiker theory was first followed by officials when it was ascertained that Heining had a habit of giving everyone on the road a lift. He had last been seen alive Wednesday in Carrollton, about 2 p. m. where he had spent the greater part of the day on business with the Metropolitan agent for that locality, Wesley Carpunky.

The latter informed authorities that Heining had left his home in Carrollton about 2 p. m. Wednesday with the intention of driving home. There was, however, a policy adjustment to be made at a home on the road along which his body was later found. It is believed that he changed his mind after leaving Carrollton and turned east onto the gravel highway north of the old Mid-City locality.

Check Visit To Farm
A police checkup of his probable visit to the farm policy holder was made, but it was ascertained that the family had been away from home that afternoon, so it could not be definitely established if he had visited the place. The position in which his car was found indicated the vehicle had been traveling west on the gravel road toward the hard road, Federal Route 67.

The progress of the black Chevrolet he was driving had apparently been halted just at the top of the slight incline at the east side of the railroad which crosses the highway at the scene of the slaying. The car when found had the brake off and was out of gear. It is believed it must have rolled down the incline at the east side of the track and come to a stop at the railroad after Heining left the vehicle just to the east of the railroad.

From this point it was indicated that he must have been forced through the barbed wire fence, or fled through the fence in his efforts to escape his assailant. Threads of cloth from his suit were left on several of the bars of the wire where he climbed through the fence.

Recover Empty Cartridges
One of the empty cartridges recovered at the scene of the slaying was picked up at the edge of the highway about the point where he went through the fence.

The highway approaches to the railroad at the scene of the crime are narrow in width, and police believe that if another car figured in the murder, that he might have been coming from the west and could easily have blocked Heining's progress.

Sheriff Arthur Powell of Greene county was deluged with reports of hitch hikers observed in the locality Wednesday. Powell has followed all these leads and parties known to have been hitch hiking in the area have been picked up, questioned and finger-printed for future reference.

Suspect Picked Up
A St. Louis resident was held in the jail at Jerseyville Saturday night after he was picked up here at the request of Powell. The man formerly lived in Carrollton where he resided until a few years ago. He was taken to Carrollton Sunday.

of the slaying Whether the billfold was an old one that had been discarded by an unknown party or whether it was the one said to have been taken from the person of Heining the Greene county sheriff could not determine until he had checked with the slain man's widow.

Sheriff Powell was in Jerseyville Monday afternoon checking into several leads in this locality. Powell requested the sheriff's office in St. Clair county to check suspects in that locality who might be picked up for the shooting at Dupont of a resident near that place. The latter was found shot to death in his car with four bullet holes in his body. He had been shot apparently from the rear seat of his car as there were powder burns on his clothing.

Boy Learns About Speech, Parents About America

Wichita, Kansas—(P)—“Hi!” Not a lengthy conversation—but a real achievement for the 7-year-old Australian boy who six months ago couldn't speak—couldn't even comprehend that the sounds people made around him had meaning.

And the cheery greeting young John Reid gives his clinic teacher in the morning is an assurance to his parents—Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. (Jock) Reid of Brisbane—that their trip to America is paying dividends.

Nearly six years ago John was stricken by Encephalitis Lethargica. Brain damage resulted. An arm and a leg were affected by paralysis. When the Reids brought their family of three youngsters to Wichita and the Institute of Logopedics last September, John was a beehive of activity without direction or understanding. As the father puts it:

“Dr. Martin F. Palmer, director of the institute, told me the illness had so affected John's brain that it could not discriminate in the constant rain of stimuli that reached it—the sounds, light, heat and all the things that reach us, too—but which we can ignore if we choose. John reacted to all of them. He darted here and there—had no comprehension of space. One room was the same as any other. His reflexes drove him to constant movement with no chance to comprehend the things about him.”

“Today—six months later—we have a rested, relaxed child. He sleeps restfully. He tries to speak simple words. He shows speech recognition—obeys simple commands to sit still, close the window, and so on. He plays catch, plays with toys—each one chosen carefully to help in his development. The institute had to reorganize John's brain—to teach other parts to take over the work of the parts damaged. When John came to the institute, he had about the same ability to focus attention as a two-month-old baby. His attention focus now is about that of a year-old child.”

His flying trip to the United States also opened a new world to the 36-year-old parents and to their other children. Mrs. Reid says:

“We like it very much. It really isn't the country—it's the people.”

“There's a point that appeals to both the wife and me—and that's the wonderful kindness of people here.” her husband put in. “I'm still trying to answer the letters we've received—and the gifts and candy and cards sent to John from all over.”

The father—former sportswriter and reporter for the Brisbane Daily

25 Boys See Derby Film Monday Night

About 25 boys were present at the Exchange club meeting Monday night when a film entitled "Soap Box Derby 1948 National Finals" was shown.

The film showed scenes from last year's derby at Akron, Ohio, in which a local boy, John English, was a contender. It traced the classic event from the before-race activities down to the thrilling climax.

The film was shown by M. H. Goldman, sales representative, and Ed Wood, new car representative, from the Chevrolet Motor company at St. Louis, Mo.

Talk By Mr. Goin

K. of C. Initiation Ceremonies Held At Carrollton

Carrollton—Thirty-four candidates were initiated into the three degrees of the Knights of Columbus at ceremonies held here Sunday afternoon, which ended with a banquet and program Sunday evening. Twenty of the group were initiated into the Carrollton Council, two into the Greenfield, four into Kamsville and eight into the Jerseyville council of the Knights of Columbus.

The first degree work was exemplified by staff from the local council, the second degree by the Jerseyville degree staff, and the third by a degree staff from Quincy.

The Very Rev. Michael Enright presided at the program which followed the banquet and introduced the speaker of the evening, the Rev. Father Ratchford of Kamsville. Talks were also made by Monsignor Schmelzer of Brussels; the Rev. Father Griffin of Jerseyville; the Rev. Father Hehn of Fieldan; and Walter J. McGinnis of Beardstown, district deputy of the Knights of Columbus. Musical numbers on the program consisted of a vocal duet by Miss Nancy Meyer and Miss Alice Kibbe, with Miss Barbara Bertman as the accompanist.

The banquet was served by the members of the Catholic Daughters of America.

Harmony Singers Of Three Cities Plan New Chorus

Barber Shop singing chapters of Jacksonville, Springfield and Beardstown may be organized into one large chorus as the result of discussions that took place Sunday during a meeting of chorus and quartet singers at Centenary Methodist church.

The Jacksonville Chapter of SPEBSQSA was host to many guests from Springfield, Beardstown, Chapin, Virginia, Litchfield and Rushville. About 150 singers and their wives attended.

The combination of the three large groups into a chorus will be given further impetus at a meeting scheduled for May 15 at Springfield. A chorus of more than 150 would be possible.

Quartets appearing at the gathering here Sunday were the Four Crackerjacks, Burlington Four and Critic Octet of Beardstown; Capitolaires of Springfield; King's Four and Superior Four of this city.

The Springfield chorus under direction of Pat Masterson and the Harmony chorus of this city, directed by Everett Baldwin, presented their favorite arrangements. Sound equipment was provided by Wilbur Rowland.

A pot luck supper was served at the conclusion of the program.

At the last regular meeting of the local chapter, Richard Denney was elected president; Don Woods, vice president; Pat Lilly, secretary, all to assume their duties July 1.

Swiss Reject Border Change With Germany

Geneva—(AP)—The Swiss are not interested in ironing out any of the wrinkles in their frontier with Germany at the moment.

When a British member of parliament, John Parker, inquired in the House of Commons recently whether the British planned to support the cession to Switzerland of German enclaves in the Schaffhausen area of Switzerland, the Swiss reacted as cold as the snow in the the Swiss press unanimously rejected the very idea.

"God protect us from our friends," said the "National Zeitung" of Basel. "The merger of foreign territory to Switzerland on the basis of a peace treaty between foreign powers is out of the question," the paper said.

Government sources let it be known immediately that the question did not interest the Swiss. And

One of the German enclaves in the region is Birsingen, which is completely surrounded by Swiss territory. There are other points where the frontier leaves German en-

deep in Swiss soil.

"These are all questions which Switzerland will clear up herself with Germany when she is free and has control of her territory," the paper said. Such negotiations were in progress until Hitler came to power. They were then broken off by the Third Reich.

"If we let ourselves be handed German territory in the peace treaties then we would be actually participating in the business of the victors, with which the neutral should have nothing to do," the "National Zeitung" said. "We stay inside our borders, territorially and politically."

ROGER THE LODGER

By Elizabeth R. Roberts

COPYRIGHT BY GREENBERG PUBLISHERS
DISTRIBUTED BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THWARTED as a person trying to slam a swinging door, I flopped out to the kitchen to mix up the butter spread: a pound of oleomargarine at eight reds points and a quarter of a pound of butter at seven, mixed together with a pinch of salt and yellow coloring.

It must have been while I was in the kitchen that Roger unpacked his bags; for when I returned to the garden room, there he lay, stretched out on my chaise longue attired in his terry cloth robe and slippers, with a highball in his hand. "Hi, there!" he greeted me cordially. "Just in time to referee a little game of pinochle."

That was another thing about Roger that irked me; he played games such as rummy and pinochle and cribbage very ably. Robbie was easy pickings and I estimated that Roger had won back every dime, maybe more, that he'd paid for rent. "That burns me up," I told Robbie. "I don't see why," he answered. "I like to play cards and it's a lot easier to sit there evenings and take Roger on than to go out looking for a game." "I know," I said, "but he always wins." "He plays better than I do," Rob said. "Well, anyway," I took refuge in womanly philosophy, "it's the principle of the thing." Rob said quickly, being allergic to misrepresentation, "You know it's the money that grates you." It was, too. I was sick of being taken in in every way by Roger.

I heard the cause of my irritation say, "Colonel Hartwicke decided he'd like to return uptown. He left messages of appreciation."

I wondered how Roger made colonels and generals jump through hoops at strategic times for his cover-up or benefit, though why, after the antics he put us through, I should question his ability, I can't understand. Since he was now dressed informally, I realized he intended to stay for a while at least, and I edged my way to the front hall to spy on the state of his luggage. It was no surprise to find the vestibule strung with clothes hanging from door knobs, light fixture, and the usual place in the closet.

"POOLED you," he taunted, as I returned to the garden room. "You thought I'd moved in upstairs."

"You unpacked—"

"Only temporarily," he cut in. Then, as though it hurt him to be forever calling my attention to obvious niceties, he explained he had unpacked because his uniforms were just back from the tailor and in a good state of press and he couldn't very well afford to allow them to lie folded and become wrinkled. That left me feeling as though I'd tried to pick his pocket. And disgusted, too. Disgusted enough to make a grave tactical error: I got in the car and drove away to spend the afternoon.

When I returned, my progress through the vestibule was not impeded by clothing, valise, foot locker, or musette bag. Believing I'd won, I galloped to the garden room where Robbie was still spread out relaxing.

"Whoopee!" I exclaimed. "It worked!"

"Hush," Rob signaled. "Roger," pointing toward the kitchen, "is getting supper."

"You double-crosser!" I exploded. "You let him stay."

"Never said I wouldn't," Rob answered. "You're the one with head erect and tail over the dashboard. Lodgers is lodgers. I still can't see what difference it makes which ones we keep."

It was in disillusionment and bitterness that I attacked the washing Monday, and when the back door bell rang, I didn't rush up to answer it but stood at the foot of the stairs and called out a shrewish, "What is it?"

A soft, sweet, gentle voice replied, "Are you Mrs. Roberts?" I was relieved that she considered there might be a mistake about that, and called out more pleasantly that I was.

"I want to talk to you," the angelic voice went on. "I rang the front door chimes but no one answered. I knew you were home. I could hear you."

"I'm washing," I said bluntly, determined not to encourage this Lorelei. "If you care to wait, when I carry up the next basket of clothes, I'll see you."

"I'd be glad to," she chirruped. I took my time, noting with grim satisfaction that I was dressed like a Fury (I have a fixation on the subject of not being able to work in a decent, clean dress) and that my appearance alone would discourage any applicant for a room.

Eventually the clothes basket was filled and I trudged up the basement stairs with it.

In a flash the back screen door opened and a young creature relieved me of the heavy basket, carried it out-of-doors to the clothes reel, and began at once to shake out the washing and pin it to the line. I looked at my slatternly dress and shabby shoes and wished the ground would open and swallow me. For this girl was young and beautiful, with a mass of chestnut curls, clear skin, and large gray-green eyes, full mouth that had a jolly expression, white teeth as even as beads, regular features, and a perfect figure. And she was smartly dressed. More than that, she had a personality which reached out and shook me by the hand—shook me to the soles of my feet. I was experiencing love at first sight. I was dippy over that girl.

Dithering and dithering, I attempted to keep pace while she hung up the laundry. When she said, "Mutual friends..." I interrupted her to say, "Yes, yes, go on." I wanted to send them flowers.

IT'S THE "EXTRA" IN THE OIL THAT GIVES YOU EXTRA PROTECTION

Ordinary motor oils alone aren't tough enough to meet the challenge of modern engines and present-day driving conditions. It takes an "extra" to provide the complete lubrication protection needed.

THAT'S WHY D-X MOTOR OIL CONTAINS

EXTRINOL

Here is What EXTRINOL Does:

Extrinol is the name of the complex chemicals which now are added to D-X Motor Oil. Extrinol makes D-X—long famous as a top quality, high heat-resisting, paraffin base motor oil—safer, tougher, longer lasting, economical.

Extrinol helps clean your motor, and helps keep it clean so that it can deliver more power.

Extrinol protects your bearings against rusting, pitting and unnecessary wear. It fights dangerous, oil-eating sludge. D-X Motor Oil, now with Extrinol, gives you more complete lubrication and extra protection—at no extra cost!

Groth's Two Hits Help Tigers Take 2 From White Sox

Chicago, April 26.—(AP)—Johnny Groth, 22-year-old Detroit rookie outfield sensation, swung an accurate bat at the start and finish as Detroit Tigers toppled the Chicago White Sox 6-2 and then 7-5 in 11 innings in a double-header before 3,799 persons here today.

In his first turn at bat Groth singled, driving in two Tiger runs. In the first extra round of the second game, Groth's liner hit first base and bounced away for a two-run double that clinched the Tiger triumph after the White Sox rallied for a 5-5 tie in the home ninth.

In between his first and last batting appearances Groth was retired seven straight times. But tonight he's the main reason why the Tigers used the twin triumph to soar into second place in American League standing. The twin defeat ended a five game win streak for the White Sox and tumbled them into a fourth place deadlock with Philadelphia.

The two victories were the Tigers' third and fourth in five games against Chicago thus far.

Illini Nine Meets Notre Dame Foes In 2 Game Series

Champaign, Ill.—Illinois and Notre Dame renew a baseball rivalry which dates back to 1895 when the teams clash in a two-game series on Illinois field Friday and Saturday.

The tilts will be No. 31 and 32 in the series in which the Illini holds a comfortable edge of 27 victories to 13 defeats.

The current Irish team, coached by Jake Cline, will be a worthy opponent for Wallie Roettger's Big Nine defending champions on basis of their performance against league foes to date.

Notre Dame has played nine games with Western Conference teams, scoring six victories and losing three decisions. Illinois has met league teams six times and emerged with four victories, one defeat, and one tie.

Phillies Defeat Giants In 11th In 12-11 Battle

Philadelphia, April 26.—(P)—Del Ennis slammed a home run with one on in the 11th inning today to give the Philadelphia Phillies a 12-11 triumph over the New York Giants in a battle that saw the Phils come from behind five times before gaining the nod.

The Phils sent the game into overtime with a two run rally in the ninth with Ennis driving home the tying marker with a long fly.

The Giants had piled up a 5-1 lead going into the sixth inning when Eddie Miller homered off starter Larry Jansen with the bases loaded and it was nip and tuck the rest of the way.

Report On Germany Given By Journalist At MacMurray Chapel

Whether a resurgent Germany becomes a blessing or a curse to Europe and the world depends in the last analysis on the ability of the German people to bring into harmony the conflicting aspects of the paradoxical German nature, was the opinion of Donald Grant, journalist, world traveler, and lecturer, given in an address at the MacMurray College chapel service Tuesday morning.

Roodhouse Man Succumbs Tuesday At Jacksonville

Roodhouse—William Everett Reeve, Roodhouse funeral director and businessman, died at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday in Our Saviour's hospital, Jacksonville.

Mr. Reeve suffered a stroke last Thursday and was admitted to the Jacksonville hospital.

The deceased was born on Oct. 1, 1877, near Athensville, the son of Henry A. and Lucy Reeve. He was a graduate of the Scottville public schools and Valparaiso University in Indiana. Mr. Reeve learned the mortician's practice in Chicago.

Besides directing funerals in and around Roodhouse, he owned and operated a furniture store.

Mr. Reeve was a member of the Methodist church, Masonic Lodge, Order of the Eastern Star, Odd Fellows and Rebecca Lodges. He was also an active member in the Springfield Consistory of Masons and president of the Roodhouse Home Association at the time of his death.

Fundel Property Sold At Glasgow

Glasgow—The property in the estate of the late Joseph Fundel of Glasgow, which comprises his home and lot and an adjoining vacant lot in the east part of Glasgow, was sold at a public administrator's sale at the Scott county court house in Winchester at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Administrator of the estate is Roy L. Bagshaw, the attorneys of the estate are Hutchens and Mann. The auctioneer was Stanley Day.

The property was divided into two tracts, and sold separately. Tract one, including the house and the 175 ft. by 65 ft. lot on which it is located, was purchased by Mrs. Lola Bowman for $2,750. The second tract, the 175 ft. by 65 ft. vacant lot, adjoining the first tract on the west, was purchased by Chas Evans for $140.

Mrs. Lena Fundel and family are the present occupants of the property. No plans for the vacating the property nor the occupancy by Mrs. Bowman have been made known at this time.

Famous Ranch Offered For Sale

Denver, April 26—(P)—One of the west's most famous ranches—the King sheep ranch north of Laramie, Wyo.—was offered for sale today.

The Ackard Land Company of Denver said the entire ranch of about 100,000 acres and its livestock and equipment all will be sold. The ranch, which has been a Wyoming landmark for nearly 60 years, is expected to sell for more than $500,000.

The King spread was established in the 1890's by Francis King, an Englishman who came to America in 1870. He was joined by his brothers, Herbert and Joseph, and together the three men built the ranch and its sheep flock into international fame.

ISB Appropriated State Funds For New Assembly Hall

Springfield, Ill., April 26—(P)—The Illinois House today passed appropriations totaling $2,500,000 to complete buildings at various state institutions. The bills went to the Senate.

Among the items are: $216,340 for a tuberculosis unit at Peoria State hospital; $5,000 for a new assembly hall at the Illinois School for the Blind, Jacksonville; $740,000 for a special education building and $165,000 for an administration building at Illinois State Normal University; $195,058 for a tuberculosis unit at Dixon State hospital; $163,000 for a power plant at Northern State Teachers college, DeKalb; $232,000 for a veterans building at Anna State hospital; $182,000 for a training school at Southern Illinois university, Carbondale; And $300,000 for a power plant at Western State college, Macomb.

The House also approved a $15,000 appropriation for paying expenses of the 25th anniversary celebration at Cahokia, Ill.

Taking as his topic "Germany Today—the Question Mark of Europe," Mr. Grant enumerated the reasons for its being so.

Most Numerous People in Europe

"First," he said, "the Germans are the most numerous people of Europe—over 70,000,000, counting refugees. Second is their position in mid-Europe. Third—and most important—is the power of the German people. I do not mean only economic power, though that is great, as for example, the coal and steel production of the Ruhr which affects all Europe.

"The crux of German power lies in their capacity to lead in almost anything. They have been among the most creative people in the world. They are able, educated, thorough; they are tough—even ruthless, and yet they can be sensitive and tender."

Jacksonville Stores Will Close Thursday Afternoons In Summer

Jacksonville retailers in a well attended meeting held Tuesday morning at the Chamber of Commerce office voted by a good majority to close their stores at 12 o'clock noon on Thursdays for the months of June, July and August.

A proposal raised earlier in the meeting to move store hours ahead one hour during the summer months failed to carry. Other schedules, also discussed but discarded for the Thursday schedule, were to close the stores for May through August on Thursday afternoons. By far the largest majority favored the Thursday afternoon closing schedule for the months of June, July and August only.

The store hour discussion was prompted by the recent defeat of daylight saving by the voters at a referendum. Retailers present at the Tuesday morning meeting expressed the belief that they should continue their present opening and closing hours as a convenience to the shoppers and as a more or less mandate as expressed by the voters in turning down the daylight schedule.

Supporters of the Thursday closing plan stated that Thursday afternoon closing of retail stores is becoming more prevalent in cities throughout the country, and in most cases is well accepted by the buying public. Retailing in general has been faced with the problem of shortening working hours for employees to compete with the generally shorter work week observed by manufacturers, schools and other employee groups, they said.

Fred Hopper, chairman of the Retail Council, presided at the meeting. He stated that adequate publicity on the new schedule of store hours for the summer will be carried during the last two weeks in May so that the public will be familiar with the change.

Partisan Dispute Keeps St. Louis From Paying Bills

St. Louis, April 26—(P)—Emergency action was being considered today to enable the city of St. Louis to pay its bills while the board of aldermen remains split in a partisan dispute.

Milton Carpenter, comptroller, arranged a conference with the city counselor for legal advice on how to pay salaries while the deadlock prevails. Carpenter is authorized to declare and emergency to make payments pending adoption of the budget bill by the aldermen.

"It is an awkward situation," Carpenter said.

Republicans, claiming to constitute the board and meeting separately, ignored a plea by Mayor Joseph M. Darst, Democrat, for settlement of the controversy.

The impasse resulted when Republicans challenged the residential qualifications of two Democratic aldermen-elect.

Centennial Of School For Blind Celebrated By Historical Society

Dr. Rodney Howe Brandon, former director of public welfare and widely known welfare worker, paid high tribute to the forward looking citizens of early Jacksonville and to the heart of the American citizen who has so generously demonstrated his love toward his fellow man in human service, in an address last night before the Morgan County Historical Society commemorating the Centennial of the founding of the Illinois School for the Blind.

Dr. Brandon is well known in Jacksonville through many friends in his contacts with the institutions in the city and as guest speaker here. He delivered the address eight years ago at a banquet celebrating the founding of the State hospital.

Why Jacksonville was selected to become the Athens of Illinois, Dr. Brandon believes, was through the influence exerted upon the community by the presence of Illinois colleges and its faculty who through higher learning led them to think and thus offered "less resistance and more welcome" to the efforts of the individual leading the movements to assist the afflicted.

Develops School For Blind

The speaker traced the development of the School for the Blind from its origin in the home of Colonel Dunlap with Samuel Bacon directing the education of four blind children through its growth to the school as it is today.

Leo J. Flood, superintendent of the school extended an invitation to all present to attend the Centennial exercises at the school, June 2, at which time a formal program will commemorate the day one hundred years ago when Governor Augustus C. French signed the act which made possible the erection of the present school.

Award Essay Prizes

The banquet also marked the 24th anniversary of the city of Jacksonville and prizes were awarded to pupils of the grade and high schools in the city for winning essays on related historical subjects.

A first prize of $5 and a second prize of $2.50 was offered for papers submitted by high school students, and similar prizes for the two best papers submitted by seventh or eighth grade students in the county.

The winning high school students were Joan Harber, of 206 South Fayette, first prize, for her essay on "Passavant Hospital" and Betty Jess, of 1710 Mound road, second prize for her essay on "Women's Clubs of the Athens of the Midwest." Merna Dickerson, of 713 East Lafayette, received honorable mention for her essay on "Centenary Grade School Winners."

The eighth grade students winning were Alice Mary Crabtree, 220 Caldwell, first prize, for her essay on "Slavery in Morgan County" and David Olson, of 820 West College, second prize, for his essay on "Early Jacksonville History." Mary Whalin of 118 East Superior, received honorable mention for her essay on "Jacksonville, Past and Present."

Dr. Clarence P. McClelland, president of the society, presided and introduced the speakers. Flowers were the gift of the Jacksonville State hospital.

Operate On Blind Child As Mother Prays For Success

New York, April 26—(P)—To the echo of his mother's prayer, blind, seven-months-old Kenny Hoffman went to the operating table today in an effort to gain his sight.

The baby is one of twin brothers flown from their home in New Orleans Sunday for treatment here by specialists.

A spokesman for the Columbia-Presbyterian Medical center said the 30-minute operation "went as anticipated."

"No dramatic results are expected immediately," he added. "We probably won't be able to say whether it was successful or not for two or three months."

The child's mother, Beverly Hoffman, 24, hovered nearby.

"I have great faith in prayer," she said. "I believe in miracles. My babies will see. I have no doubt of it."

Kenny and his twin, Denny, both have a fibrous growth behind the lenses of their eyes. It blocks their vision.
